Whitehall, April 23.

THIS Day at Noon an Express arrived from Edinburgh, with letters dated the 19th Instant, brought the following account.

That on Wednesday the 16th Instant, about Two o'Clock in the Afternoon, his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland came up with about 7000 of the Rebels on the Moor above Culloden near Inverness. The Cannonading continued near a Quarter of an Hour; after which, the Right Wing of the Rebel Army, consisting of the Macdonalds and Frasers, advanced and attacked our Left; but after receiving two Fires, which did great Execution, they fled with the rest of their Army, leaving Five Hundred killed on the Field of Battle. They were pursued by the Horse, Dragoons, and Argylleshire Men; and it is computed full as many fell in the Flight. The French surrender'd themselves Prisoners. Part of the Rebels fled towards Badenoch and Fort Augustus; others thro' Inverness to Ross-shire. His Royal Highness the Duke enter'd Inverness about Five that Night. The Earl of Kilmarnock, Sir John Wedderburn, the Person called by the Rebels the French Ambassador, with many others, are taken Prisoners.

We had not above thirty Men killed, none of which were of any Note.

This News comes both by Perth and Aberdeen; but no Accounts are yet come from his Royal Highness.
